Ohio Legislature *

Case of Leavitts in N. York. | "Mass: Abol."

* The Pennsylv. Freeman (March 21. 1839) says "a bill has been carried through of legislature (of Ohio) wh. empowers a single justice, on summary process, to decide of fate of a man claimed as a fugitive slave, which in of event of a delay of of decision requires bonds of of claimed victim & not of his claimant; wh. subjects any person who may counsel, or advise a slave to escape from his servitude, who may afford him any facilities of escape, offer him a shelter or ~~any~~ means of livelihood, or who may furnish him "with money or any other thing" (as food or raiment) to a <sup>fine</sup> of $500, or imprisonment not exceeding
